INTRODUCTION

Located in the southernmost part of the African continent, the Republic of South Africa covers an area of about 1.21 million km<sup>2</sup>. The country's love for variety is evident, with three capitals, eleven official languages, 21 National Parks, and ten UNESCO World Heritage Sites. South Africa boasts a stunning natural landscape, including breathtaking wildlife reserves, beaches, and mountains. Some of the most popular attractions include Kruger National Park, Table Mountain, the Cape of Good Hope, and the Drakensberg Mountains.

Overall, traveling to South Africa is a unique and enriching experience, offering a chance to experience the country's rich culture, stunning natural beauty, and exciting adventure activities.

THINGS TO KNOW BEFORE COMING TO SOUTH AFRICA:

1. South Africa has a varied climate depending on the region, so make sure to pack appropriate clothing. In Cape Town you can enjoy warm day and cooler night during April, while areas such as Kruger National Park can be hot and humid year-round.
  - a. Johannesburg: 9°C/21°C
  - b. Kruger National Park: 18°C/30°C
  - c. Cape Town: 12°C/25°C
  - d. Hermanus: 11°C/23°C
2. Some regions of South Africa such as Kruger National Park are at risk for malaria, so make sure to consult with your doctor before traveling and take appropriate precautions such as taking antimalarial medication or using insect repellent.
3. Yellow fever is not endemic in South Africa, meaning that the virus is not regularly found in the local population or animals. However, travelers coming from countries where yellow fever is present may be required to show proof of yellow fever vaccination upon arrival in South Africa to prevent the spread of the virus.
4. South Africa has a high crime rate, it is recommended to take extra precautions for personal safety. Be aware of your surroundings and avoid carrying large amounts of cash or wearing expensive jewelry.
5. To access certain attractions, it may be necessary to take a short walk or hike.
6. Tour members are encouraged to approach the unpredictable with optimism and bring positive energy, as this will ensure that we all enjoy the stunning scenery and create memorable moments together.
